Dear Bob, —

Your candy just came and we are enjoying it very much. The girls all say you're some cook and then make for the box again. Thank you very, very much and try it again "lest you forget" how to make fudge.

Wileen is going to mail this in Boston town as I hope you'll get it by tomorrow night. I'm up to my ears in work so I can't go in town with Helen for lunch. We girls, Ruth P., Mary, the two Helens and I were going for a drive this afternoon but there's a big snowstorm, for which I'm truly thankful as I simply couldn't spare the time anyway.

Received a letter from Bert this morning in which house-sickness fairly shouted its presence. Also heard from Mitch Saturday and she said that she was glad (imagine it!) to get back to college. She also said that Mark wasn't well at Xmas time.

I forgot every thing about your ~~business~~^{permanent} till after my laundry had gone, but just have patience till next time, Bobby boy, and you'll get it. And would you rather have a permanent, banner, or one of those cutey seals like the one I sent Mitch? Please let me know. [Ever since the mail came, Clarissa's been yelling all around, "And I got six letters; no you didn't get anything. I got six!"] ↳ That makes me so mad!"] Now I must address this as Helen's nearly ready.
Tell everybody to W R I T E; and thank you oceans for the fudge.
Lovingly,
Janet.
